THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weak-

The Inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, SUFFOCATING FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading thereto, and Debility from various causes, Indigestiveness and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the Joints and Muscles, Indigestion, Rheumatism, etc.

ings may be secured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites

The power of arresting diseases displayed by this preparation is honorably acknowledged by the medical faculty in every section where it has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It

Will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS

THE GHOSTS.

The subject of spiritualism is receiving a good deal of attention just now. The subject can not be said to be under discussion, however. Two clergymen have, within the past few days, lectured upon it, and nobody worth mentioning has replied to them. There is a good opportunity for some well informed spiritualist to come here and set forth in clear terms what spiritualists believe and what they claim to be able to prove. The clerical explanation of spiritualistic phenomena—that the devil is responsible for everything—is no explanation at all. That is a worn out solution of things that can not be understood and is utterly at variance with the modern method of dealing with occult matters. It is beyond denial that the spiritualists at their seances and through their mediums do produce some extraordinary phenomena, which have fairly floored some of the best scientists of the time. No Christian can consistently deny the possibility of the appearance upon earth of supernatural beings, or of their communicating with humanity. The Bible is full of such appearances. Science, however, does not yet admit the supernatural into the circle of its knowledge and at present, like the rest of the world, falls back upon "demon sense" and sneers at everything beyond its knowledge. It should not be forgotten that not so long ago it was common sense to believe that the world was flat and that the stars were so many candles lighted for our special convenience. We are not declaring a belief in spiritualism, by any means, but there are hundreds of thousands of very intelligent respectable people scattered all over the country who do believe in it thoroughly. It is, furthermore, the only religious system that does not demand faith in a future life, but offers to prove one great fact of which the world just now is in very great doubt. Sneers are not arguments and dragging in a devil whose existence is not proved, to disprove known facts is even a weaker recourse. We say again, therefore, that we want to see the spiritualists have fair play, and hope the Reno delegation will import some clever man to take the stump on behalf of the poor ghosts.

THE DEATH OF PARKS.

The arrest this morning, on a charge of manslaughter, of the Reno yardmaster and the engineer and fireman of the locomotive which ran over and killed E. C. Parks on Wednesday has created considerable feeling in the community, pro and con. The corner, it should be remembered, had no discretion in the matter of making the complaints. The verdict of the jury compelled him to do that. We are of the opinion that the jury failed to hit the nail squarely on the head. The cause of Parks' dreadful death was beyond doubt the line of freight cars which prevented him from seeing the approaching locomotive, and also made it impossible for the engineer to see the unfortunate man coming. No railroad company has a right to throw cars over the regular road, as in this case, and keep them standing there for hours and thus make a death trap of the only road which the engineer could take to transact his business. If the responsibility can be traced to any one of having placed the cars there and kept them there when they might have been kept in a safer position, that person should be dealt with severely. Now that the arrests have been made, the fullest examination should be had and the men, if innocent, cleared of even a suspicion of blame. That the blame for Parks' death lies somewhere is unquestionable. If with the railroad company it should be mulcted in heavy damages. If with anyone employee or set of employees, they should be sent to Carson. There are altogether too many accidents on the railroad. Whatever the outcome of the present case, we are glad that the state has become a party to it. It is better able to fight a wealthy corporation than any individual.

The editorial page of the Virginia Chronicle is a typographical monstrosity at present. Whenever the editor gets an idea it excites him and he double leads it and bolsters the rare find with italics and capitals. Arguments that depend on type for their strength can't be worth much.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The best dressed newspaper read on the Pacific coast is notoriously the editor of the San Francisco Stock Exchange. How he has managed it on his salary is now no longer a secret. He tells it thus:
The editor of the Reno GAZETTE says: "The churches were well attended yesterday," but gloomily adds: "The man who doesn't own an overcoat these days and hasn't the money to buy one, is not open to the softer appeals of the gospel." Still, if he keeps quiet and goes to church regularly, he may, before the winter is over, be intrusted with the collection plate.

The raging jabberwock of the Austin Reveille being hard pressed for some new meanness to hurl at this metropolitan journal, takes advantage of a typographical error to accuse the GAZETTE of issuing bad grammar. Jeer at the spider-like build of the editorial shanks, scoff at the airy grace of the commanding figure, and the suppositious pimple which adorns the editorial countenance but, an 'thou value the safety o' thy bones, young snark, burble not of bad grammar in this shop.

If Troy Dye had only had a decent show he might have lived and died a christian man. Just look at the luck of public administrator Doolan of San Francisco who has been appointed to take charge of the effects of a Chinese pawnbroker, defunct, valued at $30,000. What frantic efforts Doolan will make to find the heirs and keep down costs.

Deacon Parkinson, of the Carson Tribune boldly proclaims in his paper that he has been a citizen of the United States for 28 years. Can you show your naturalization papers, Verbum? Will you accept a bet of two to one that you won't be allowed to vote at the next election?

Bismark will feel no slight alarm when he tears the wrapper of the GAZETTE at the breakfast table and learns that the Sacramento Bee thinks that "the German government is simply making a fool of itself" in its manner of dealing with the Socialists.

Spurgeon, London's clerical reformer, who believes that the Almighty sinks ships, sends plagues and drowns small boys on Sunday, will be rather puzzled over the destruction of a many churches by the eastern tornado of Wednesday.

The Carson Appeal is harrowing the soul of Deacon Parkinson by republishing from the files of the Tribune complimentary notices of Mr. Mighels while that gentleman was a member of the legislature.

If we are insane, as the GAZETTE claims.—Freddy Hart.

How many are there of you?

Ver Mer's Squandered Money.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The case of Parrot & Co. vs. Briggs, Morris & O'Connor, to recover amounts lost at the gambling house of defendants by Alfred Ver Mehr while in the employ of plaintiffs, this morning came suddenly to an end for the term in an unexpected manner, being continued. Since yesterday afternoon the time of the court has been occupied in hearing arguments on the bill of particulars filed by plaintiffs. This morning Briggs, through his counsel, made affidavit that said bill was satisfactory to him; that he has at the instigation of his lawyer, asked for a bill particularizing the amounts lost by Ver Mehr and dates of said losses; that he had largely prepared to meet and disprove all the allegations of the bill, when counsel for plaintiff, finding that he could not prove the accuracy of the bill, suddenly demanded the privilege of amending his complaint so as to prove the loss of $35,000 without showing at what time various sums had been won from Van Mehr by defendant. Guided by the bill of particulars Briggs prepared to show that Van Mehr did not have the amount stated, nor did he incur his losses at times stated, but that he had, in other ways and at other times, squandered the money of his employers. The withdrawal of this bill, therefore was a surprise and he demanded a postponement of his case to prepare against the new plan of attack adopted by plaintiff. The Court admitted the justice of the demand, and the case by mutual consent went over for the term.

Killing the Democratic Party.

[Burlington Hawkeye.]
Ben Hill in Georgia: "I begin to think that the Democratic party can never be killed. Secession did not kill it; the war did not kill it; fraud did not kill it; it has not killed itself and it will not die."

Kill the Democratic party? Of course you can't. That's just what the sinners said to Noah: "By George!" says they, "you may drown every last beggar of us, and the world will be so full of us before the ground is dry, that you can't shut your eyes and throw a club without hitting some of us and having a fight on your hands." And they were right; there are more of them and worse ones in the world to-day than there were before the flood. Of course you can't kill the Democratic party, but it isn't on account of its goodness or usefulness.

The police of Berlin, under the provisions of the anti-Socialists bill, have dissolved four Socialist clubs.

Twelve tons of powder were exploded in a mine at Dutch Flat, on the 23d, and the town enjoyed a lively earthquake.

The arms of the military companies of New Orleans have been removed to the Mechanics' Institute, where forty men will guard them until after the elections.

The Republicans and anti-Democrats of New York city have formed a combination against Tammany and nominated a municipal ticket.

The Albanian League deny that they are responsible for the murder of Mehmet Ali Pasha, asserting that the deed was committed by brigands.

The damage by the inundation on the Danubia branch of the Nile is estimated at $2,500,000. Two hundred and fifty lives have been lost. The government is accused of neglecting all precautions against such a calamity.

The Portland (Or.) grand jury has found true bills against Jas. Johnson, Archie Brown and Jacob Sward, the pawnbroker robbers, for murder in the first degree. Also against J. K. Mercer for the premeditated murder of A. C. McDonald.

Four suicides are announced as taking place on the 23d. George Burton, of San Francisco, aged 63, shot himself in the head on account of ill health.

Fanny Kearns, also of San Francisco, lately separated from her husband, shot herself in the left breast and is expected to die. Mrs. Lem W. Taylor of Oakland, was in ill health and too poor to care for her children, and took strychnine. P. Johnson, of Sonoma, Tuolumne county, shot himself through the heart. Financial difficulties.

Little Johnny on Kissin.

[Argonaut.]
A man wick lives in Luzzany has rote to me, and he says the man does, can I tel him wick is the most imorl, men or wimmim? So I ast my sisters yung man. Wel, Johnn, it de pens on what the fool means by imorl! if its drinkin whisky, and playn cards, and chune 2 backo, and fitin, and swarin we can beat the wimmim fokes ol to deth at that, but if he means bein ol night comin to bed wen the mometer is ten degrees blow Nere, wy they can give us pints and git a way with the game evry time.

When he had went out I shode the letter to my sister and ast her what did a man mean by bein imorl, and she loked ol round the room and then she sed: "Means to enjoy hisself, I sposes, the noty feller!" But I sed: "You dont understand, wot it is for to be imorl!"

Then she thot a wile, my sister did, and then she loked at her new shoes, and Billy he hasgot sum new boots too, with legs to em, not like heru, and after a wile she got red like beets, and she sed: "Johnnie, you neden't say anything, but I gess he means kissin."

But if that's so the wimmim folks is the most imorral, cos the men kis no body but jest them, but they kises the men, and their selfs too, but it a other boy wude kis me Ide wack him on the snoot of his nose.

JOTTINGS.

— Do you believe in ghosts? If so, how much?

— Icicles 18 inches long hung from the bottoms of the flumes this morning.

— Hon Geo. W. Baker, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, is in town.

— F. W. Cole, Democratic candidate for supreme judge, has arrived from Eureka.

— There was ice on all the puddles this morning, and the nose of the early bird was blue.

— Henry Johnson, the ravishingly beautiful captain of J. C. Hagerman's delivery wagon, will return from the bay to-morrow.

— The funeral of Mrs. Goegge took place this afternoon from her late residence on Fourth street. It was largely attended.

— Visitors just returned from Susanville say that the fair is a big success. There are quite a number of Renoites in attendance.

— A letter addressed to Miss Christina Mc Ivor, Reno, Nevada, was found on Chestnut street to day. It can be recovered by calling at the GAZETTE office.

— Some hoodlums began last night to bombard with cobbles the Chinese wash-houses on lower Virginia street, but the heathen turned loose the flight-compelling revolver and were left in peace.

— Elder Stephens will continue his lecture on Spiritualism this evening at the Congregational church. They are the first of a series of lectures to be continued every evening for a few weeks.

— The artist who drew the illustrations in the New York Police Gazette of October 19th, of the tarring and feathering of Jones, ought to be daubed himself. The Renoites are represented as border ruffians in slouched hats, with their trousers in their boots and murderous clubs in their hands.

Another Railroad Accident.

Last evening about half past 6 o'clock, still another railroad accident happened at Wadsworth. A girl named Ella McCoy, about 17 years of age, attempted to board the west-bound emigrant train after it had commenced moving and in some manner lost her footing and fell under the wheels. Her left leg was crushed so badly that Dr. Bergman, who was sent for by telegraph, was compelled to amputate it two inches below the knee. The poor girl is just from Ireland and is without friends or money. The ladies of Wadsworth are caring for her. She will probably recover, although her violent grief and constant weeping may throw her into a violent fever.

That Truckee Tragedy.

An editorial paragraph, intended to be humorous, appeared in last evening's GAZETTE, stating that it was rumored that editor McGlashan of the Truckee Republican had been hanged by the outraged people of that town. Five persons who did not look idiotic, have already called at this office gravely inquiring for further particulars of the lynching. The editor is to-day busily drawing plans and specifications for another joke.

RICHARD ROE AROUND.

He is Hunting John Doe for Vengeance.

Richard Roe was on a bit of a time night before last and fell foul of John Doe who put a head on him. Richard by the advice of friends went to a lawyer about it yesterday and the lawyer saw $5000 damages in the immediate future. Mr. John Doe being a man of property. He seized a pen and drew up a complaint out of hand to be entered in the district court of the second judicial district. It set forth that Richard Roe, the plaintiff in this action, was then, and had been for eight years last past, a citizen of the town of Reno, in the county of Washoe, state of Nevada, and of good and reputable standing in the community in which he lived. And for cause of complaint this plaintiff, then said Richard Roe, set forth and alleged the following, to wit: That the said John Doe, the defendant in this action, was a citizen of Reno, in the county of Washoe, state of Nevada. That on the night of October 23. A. D. 1878, the said John Doe did, in the saloon of Hans Snigglefritz, situate upon a street of Reno, Washoe county, state of Nevada, known as Virginia street, apply to Richard Roe, the plaintiff in this action, the following words, to wit:

"Dick, air you goin to treat?" To which the aforesaid Richard Roe, the plaintiff in this action, is ready and willing to state upon his oath that he made the following reply, to wit: "Not if the court knows itself, John," the same being intended as in the nature a pleasantry, joke, witticism or jest.

And for further cause of complaint it is alleged that the said John Doe, defendant in this action, did then and there in the said saloon of Hans Snigglefritz, situate upon said Virginia street, in the town of Reno, Washoe county, state of Nevada, make use of the following libelous words to wit:

"Then by — you are a stinker," and then there did fall upon, beat, wound, maltreat and grievously injure said Richard Roe, the plaintiff in this action.

And for further cause of complaint it is alleged that the said John Doe did at the time and place named, strike and beat with his fist the left eye of the said Richard Roe, plaintiff in this action, the said blow being followed by the prostration upon the floor of the said saloon, of the said Richard Roe, and that the said John Doe, defendant in this action, did thereupon at the time and place herein specified perform the illegal act known as "dancing upon" the prostrated body of said Richard Roe, thereby causing him great bodily pain and acute mental agony.

And for further cause of complaint it is—"Hold on, Judge," interrupted Dick, who had grown very red in the face and who was gathering up his hat from the floor with a trembling hand.

"What's the matter?" asked the surprised lawyer.

"Well," said Richard Roe, the plaintiff in this action as aforesaid, "I was full when the thing happened and I'd no idee the cuss had chawed me up like that. Law ain't no good when a feller's used in that style. Blood hez got to be spilled. I'm a-lookin' fur John Doe an, you'll hear tell of me when I find him."

And he shot out to the street with a war map for a countenance.

A "Worker."

"Whew!" he said, pushing back his hat and collecting the sweat on his forehead with one slow side wipe of his forefinger, "I wish to thunder this campaign was over."

"Why?" asked the reporter.

"Why? Oh, I'm just working day and night for the ticket. Every good citizen ought to do that. Every vote counts. Ah, here comes a fellow I must whip into line. He's inclined to bolt."

The worker approached the shaky citizen and shook hands with him and proceeded to influence his political opinions thus:

"Hello Bob; how goes it?"

"Pretty well, Tom; how's yourself?"

"Oh, tip-top. Sold your hay yet?"

"Some of it. Guess I'll get rid of the rest to-morrow."

"Oh, I don't know. I've seen colder."

"Hem! Feel like havin' somethin', Bob?"

"Well, I don't care if I do."

[They do and come out again to the sidewalk.]

The campaign's gettin' pretty hot, ain't it, Bob?"

"Well, I don't take much interest in it."

"Hope you'll vote the right ticket, Bob."

"I'll try to, Tom."

"Well, so-long."

"Bye-bye."

Worker (solus)—There's another good solid vote for the party. If every good citizen would work as I do there wouldn't be any fear about the result.

A Ball at Pyramid.

The Monroe brothers gave a ball at their hotel at Pyramid last evening. The politicians went out from here in force. Among the disinterested guests were A. K. Lamb, Bob Wright and Jake and Bill. Everts. To-day sundry Democratic office seekers have rushed off to Pyramid to set 'em up for the boys and counteract the effect of the visit of the Repubs. The ball was a success.

The Republican Meeting at Glendale.

There was a successful Republican mass meeting at Glendale last evening. C. S. Varian, C. O. Powning, Dr. Fred Hutchings, John Bowman, Major Underwood, J. P. Foulks and W. M. Boardman each spoke. The meeting was enthusiastic. Brown's will be favored this evening.

THE GHOSTLY WAR.

Elder Stephens on Modern Spiritualism.

Elder B. A. Stephens held forth to a good audience at the Congregational church last evening on the subject of spiritualism. The Elder took the Bible for his principal weapon and flung texts by the handful at the heads of the spook party, to the infinite delight of the anti-goblin faction. According to the Elder the devil is responsible for all spiritual manifestations. Biblical prophecies—of the sort that are warranted to fit any event that has already happened—were freely quoted to show that the prophecies, if they had only been understood before hand, would have prepared the world to expect just what has occurred—especially spiritualism. The speaker considered it no better than witchcraft and clinched his points w/ scripture. Concerning the most attractive feature of a belief in modern spiritualism—its free lo tendency—the Elder will speak to-night at the same place. At the conclusion of the lecture the old magnetic humbug who is taking this means of advertising himself, arose and announced that he should shortly answer the Elders arguments. An old lady named Mrs. Stephens also got up and advertised an opposition entertainment. Thus the fun grows, and all Reno is becoming more and more interested. The chief objection to a belief in the existence of spirits, and to the idea that they are interested in human affairs is that no old subscriber to the GAZETTE who has died has ever sent back to renew his subscription. It may be urged that a spirit may, like mean souls in the flesh, loaf into saloons (or even private houses, or this office itself) and read the GAZETTE for nothing. But in that case all good men when they come to lie upon their death bed should pray for annihilation as such a depraved existence is certainly not to be desired.

A "Female Workingman."

Mrs. Smith, the "female Workingman," held forth at the Opera House last night. The lady has become an independent political organization all by herself, and enjoyed herself for an hour or more scolding everybody. She used her tongue to abuse the nominees of the Workingmen's party with considerable vigor, if not delicacy. It was plain that madam's sole purpose in speaking was to ease her mind, caring nothing about making votes for anybody. The audience respectfully roared with laughter at Mrs. Smith's feminine view of things political, and the more rancorous she became the louder grew the encouraging applause.

A Plute Artist.

Judge Cossett has a curiosity in the shape of a hickory cane made by an ingenious Plute. Enough of the bark has been left on the upper end to form a full sized brown lizard and a beautifully veined leaf. The lizard is carved neatly and is life-like enough to be unpleasant.

Good Speakers Coming.

Hon. Wm. Woodburn will speak in Reno on the evening of the 28th. Gov. Woods, of Oregon, will set forth the Republican principles at Wadsworth on the 31st, and will address the people of Reno on Nov. 2d.

The Clothing War.

EDITOR GAZETTE: In the Journal of October 3d, I find an announcement signed L. Abrams, of the White House. This announcement sets forth that other dealers in clothing keeps "humbog shops" and offer "unsalable goods" to the public. He also believes that these humbug dealers "lie to deceive the public." I represent, for my part of the humbuggers, Mr. Editor, I represent that when I offer "unsalable goods" I always suffer for it, and not Mr. Abrams. The people have worn my goods long enough to know better than Mr. Abrams whether they come from a "humbog shop" or not. During my many years residence and business in Reno, I have made my own reputation and it is safe from the interested charges brought by this newcomer at the White House.

Now, whether I keep a humbug shop or not, I shall continue to sell the best goods in market and at the lowest rates. I shall sell men and boys clothing cheaper than "Whitney" and answer them. I shall keep more goods, and a better stock always on hand. And all of these assertions, so far from being "lies to deceive the public" can be proven by my patrons during fair week as they have been proven any time during the past ten years.
